Period for Reply -- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 20 February 2008 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ching-Chen (US PUB 2003/0236045). '045 discloses a scrubber mesh material (10) comprised of wrinkled or crimped strands or wires (12,13) and further wherein the material can be formed into a sheet, sphere or glove (paragraph 0022). Furthermore, refer to paragraphs 0005, 0019 and 0021, which use the term "irregular" to describe the crimped sections. Also see figures 3 and 5, which shows that the wave of the yarns (is) irregular.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 20 February 2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The main issue in this application pertains to the meshes formed by the wrinkled wires. The mesh being shown in Figure 3. With regard to the prior art, it is noted that the mesh shown in figures 1 and 2 of '045 is the blank material that is subsequently fed through the machine of figure 4 to produce a plurality of irregular crimped sections along the length of the mesh. The side view of the mesh after it is fed through the machine of figure 4 shows that the crimps produce thereby have different depths. Such an irregular crimping would produce at least a degree of difference between any one mesh and one or more adjacent meshes and any pushing or pulling of the mesh of figure 1 in varying depths in the cross-section thereof would result in at least some variation in adjacent meshes.

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Mark Spisich whose telephone number is (571) 272-1278. The examiner can normally be reached on M-Th (5:30-3:00), Alternate Fri off.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Joseph J. Hail can be reached on (571) 272-4485. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
